

CEO/Owner: Imran Ali

Imran's family has been in the HVAC and Electrical business for the past 3 generations. Through hard work and a strong emphasis on customer satisfaction he has been able to expand the family business.

He started working with his father when he was in high school and learned to install and service HVAC systems in the city of Chicago. Since then, his expertise in the field has grown immensely along with his attention to care and detail.

Today, United HVAC and Electrical Inc. is able to help so many families and businesses in the Chicagoland area because of Imran's relentless work ethic and personability. He doesn't rest till his clients are not just satisfied but are truly happy with the his service.
